

CBD for Beauty

CBD-infused balms, lotions, sprays, bath bombs and serums are all over the place and for good reason. "I realized there are too many toxic products on the market and creating TES (Total Everyday Skincare) Cosmetics became a life mission for me," said Dr. Hernandez. "The products we put directly on our skin should not only help us look better – they should help us feel better and healthier. They shouldn't be filled with chemicals and fillers." The good news here is that CBD oil is rich in Omega-3 Fatty Acids and Vitamins D and E, which are all ingredients that are well known for nourishing the skin and fighting the signs of aging.

FLOWER & FREEDOM

We're exploring cannabis for mental and physical fitness

How do you cannabis? Share your story at www.flowerandfreedom.com